Privacy Notice (Young People, Parents and Carers)

White Gold Cornwall Privacy Statement

In order to provide appropriate support, it is necessary to collect certain information (data) about those that we support and, where applicable, parents/carers. Use of data is governed by legislation; Data Protection Act (2018) and UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

Everyone involved with White Gold Cornwall (WGC) takes their responsibilities with regard to personal information very seriously and we have policies and procedures in place to ensure that data is used appropriately and kept secure.

Information about you or a person in your care.

Initially information is recorded on a “Referral form”. This is usually completed by an organisation or agency asking us to provide support e.g. by a Social Worker or head of a school. Information is also obtained and updated during the course of our involvement with you or your child / young person. Some of the data that we collect is classified as “sensitive data” which is explained below.

Information held by White Gold Cornwall

Information provided on our referral form will usually include;

- The name, date of birth, address and contact details of the person seeking support.
- The name, address and contact details of the parent or carer.
- Family details including other persons in the home.
- Hobbies, interests and clubs attended.

Sensitive personal data will vary according to individual circumstances but may include;

- Reasons for the referral being made.
- Social circumstances.
- Physical or mental health details.
- Religious or cultural beliefs or practices.
- Substance misuse i.e. drugs and alcohol.
- Involvement with the criminal justice system.
- Any risks possessed by the person being supported to themselves or others.

Other information that we collect.

In order to provide appropriate support WGC workers may record details of sessions and relevant information provided by the person being supported or other persons involved with them.

Workers write monthly updates of the sessions that are seen by managers and provided to referring agencies.

Confidentiality.

During sessions the person being supported may discuss personal information regarding incidents, opinions and feelings. Such conversations will remain confidential between the individual and the WGC worker and will not be shared with others unless exceptional circumstances mean that such information must be shared. For example; if the information concerns a severe risk to the safety of the individual or another person.

The worker will discuss confidentiality with the person receiving support.

Retention of information.

When sessions with WGC conclude, information is retained for as “long as is necessary” in line with legislation. Any information that is not necessary to retain, e.g. for legal reasons, will be deleted from our computer or shredded.

Security

All information is kept confidential, and records are kept secure. Alan Milliner, CEO is registered with the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) as a Data Protection Officer and all members of WGC are aware of their responsibilities under DPA 2018/ UK GDPR.

Rights regarding personal information.

You have a right to access any of the information that is held about you at any time. You also have the right to have inaccurate information corrected, information updated and the right to request that certain information is deleted.

If you wish to access information, or if you have any questions or concerns, please contact the Office Manager, Sally Ackerley, by telephone; 01209 219185 or email adminteam@whitegoldcornwall.co.uk

If you feel that we are not able to assist or your concerns have not been resolved to your satisfaction, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioners Officer (ICO). Information is available via the website <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>
